GRIMSBY SPORTS GET CHANCE TO SEE LACROSSE GAME HERE

Thanks to the kindness of Mr. Russell T. Kelley of Hamilton, local sports are going to have an opportunity of seeing a real honest to goodness exhibition of Canada's National Game, Lacrosse. As soon as Mr. Kelley learned that the Peach Kings were going to stage a Community Fair, volunteered to arrange a Lacrosse game as an added attraction.

So on Thursday night, the 20, at six o'clock Mr. Kelley's Tigers will line up against the Six Nations' Team from the Reserve. The Redskins have a real snappy team and will be led by Chief Dave Thomas who is a regular on the Tigers line up. Local interest is added to the attraction because Nick Burnside, one of the most popular and useful boys who ever donned a Peach King uniform, is the star defender of the Tiger team. A real high class exhibition of lacrosse is promised and a bumper crowd should be expected to see the contest.

NICK BURNSIDE.

Goal getter extraordinary, and generally man of the team, Nick Burnside, star defender of the Peach Kings, Tiger team, will do his stuff with the Tigers against the Six Nations Indian team at school grounds Thursday night, 20th, at 6 o'clock. This will be Grimsby's first opportunity to see Canada's national game. A bumper crowd is expected.

TWAS A "HEART CASE" CAUSED BOB MOXLEY TO SETTLE HERE

(Sanitary Engineer, Plumber and Steamfitter, Toronto, July 15)

Romance is frequently found in strange places and it has a habit of changing the course of many lives. Not that Grimsby, Ont., is a strange place or that the romance concerned might have caused Robert (Bob) Moxley to have strayed from the honored path of the plumbing industry, but it is interesting to calculate just what some of us might have been doing today had the romantic fates dealt us a different kind of a hand.

"BOB" MOXLEY.

But it was a "heart case" which caused Bob Moxley to settle in Grimsby, Ont., and after meeting the lady in the case, we can only extend compliments to Bob on his splendid judgment.

It was eighteen years ago that all this took place and Bob has been an honored member of the business fraternity of Grimsby and district since then. He went originally to that town while employed by the Rogers Plumbing Co., of Hamilton.

He liked the town and one of its fair sex so much that he decided to settle down, and he has stayed except for four years from 1914 to 1918 when he was giving his every support to as noble a calling as the business he chose—the army. He spent a year in Beamsville but returned again to Grimsby to practise the trade which he learned well and truly while with the old established firm of McKelvey & Birch of Kingston, Ontario.

Bob is very public spirited, as any business man should be who expects to make progress especially in a smaller community where he can be a "big toad in a small puddle." He is a member of the town council and of the fire and light committee. He runs a one man business, believing that his own connection and personal attention to all business dealings with customers is the element which keeps things running smoothly and enables him to make a fair profit on work. He does considerable school work, keeps his accounts in a very liquid condition, has practically no bad debts whatever, and secures a great deal of his business on the basis of recommendation of other customers. He does considerable school work and has a large building and renewal trade, and this keeps him so busy that he has no time to go out after new business. Considerable work is also done by him out in the country.

In religion Bob is a Presbyterian but broad minded enough to subscribe to the ideals of the Unionist movement. In politics he is a sound Tory and therefore believes that under a changed government business would be a lot better. Just how much better he could stand it we would hate to guess because he is working night and day as it is, and would, we think, be taking a long chance on disrupting the course of married bliss which has run smoothly for 12 years should he take on much more work.

LIGHT CONTRACT IS DISCUSSED

A special session of the town council was held in the office of the clerk, on Wednesday evening, August 5, 1925, for the purpose of meeting representatives of the Dominion Power & Transmission Co., Limited, with regard to the making of a new power and light contract. Aldermen Barnard and Moxley were absent.

Leslie W. Pratt and W. J. Angus were present on behalf of the company. Considerable, at times somewhat hot, discussion took place over the apparent neglect of the town's application for estimates and draft contract, by the Hydro Electric Power Commission, and the eventual saving to the power consumers of the town, the consent of Hydro power sale.

Asked as to the proposition they were ready to submit, Pratt and Angus stated it would be substantially the same as that which is now in effect, saving regard to changed local conditions, changes required by the town in their street lighting, etc.

It was moved by Ald. Fonger, seconded by Ald. Durham, that the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, submit to this council, a new synopsis of agreement insofar as power and lighting is concerned, the synopsis to be in keeping with changed conditions of the past few years. When submitted the proposition will receive due consideration of the council, at once, and that a copy of this motion be sent to the Hydro Electric Power Commission (for their information and action, if any).

Ald. St. John thought the Hydro

should be given another chance to submit their estimates and contract, Reeve Munnell taking the stand that they had had plenty of opportunity to do so, and had not availed themselves of it. Mayor Livingston endeavored to throw some light on this phase of the question, with more or less success, as to the acceptance of an explanation.

It was finally decided, upon motion of Reeve Munnell-Ald. Bird, that the clerk notify the Hydro Commission that if they wish to submit a plan for a municipal lighting and power plant, they must do so at once—at once meaning for consideration at the next regular meeting of the council, on August 12, (tonight) prior to convening for their regular meeting.

J. W. Hopkins appeared and requested relief from the overhead of water from the road into his property at the forty bridge, stating damage caused by men heavy rain was considerable—and brought about by irregular construction of catch-basin at that point, in the building of the new pavement. The council agreed Mr. Hopkins of their consent.

Repeal of the bridge over the Forty creek, on Elizabeth street, were under discussion and on motion of Ald. Fonger and St. John, it was decided that the superintendent be instructed to proceed at once with repairs to Elizabeth street bridge, these repairs to consist of at least a new two-inch board, white or Norway pine covering,

NOW GIRLS YOU MUST COVER UP

North Grimsby Council To Pass New Regulating Clothing of Bathers

North Grimsby township council in its regular session on Saturday with Hamilton Mayor W. H. St. John, aldermen; Reeve, O. W. Critchfield, A. Oakman and W. H. VanDusen, councillors present.

Three Reseve, Oakman and VanDusen were appointed a Committee to meet with Provincial Highway Engineers following with regard to flooding, and to report on a point about a bridge east of Peach Kings.

In the report on the proposed new road this body the committee appointed at last meeting reported: "That Mr. Nicholson is at present doing business under a license from North Grimsby council. We would recommend that this license be withdrawn, and no further license be issued to said Mr. Nicholson until adequate arrangements are made to take care of traffic from the highway."

The report was adopted. Another motion was passed to the effect that "the clerk write Mr. Nicholson that in accordance with the township by-law he be requested to remove his booth back far enough to make ample parking space so as not to obstruct highway traffic, before he be granted a permit."

G. B. McCumbe, solicitor for the township, will prepare a bylaw under section 51 of the Highway Act to regulate traffic in Grimsby Beach and to place the maximum speed at twelve miles per hour.

The solicitor will also be instructed to prepare a bylaw to regulate clothing of bathers in the township.

The reeve and deputy reeve were appointed to investigate the condition of the Cemetery on The Thirty Mountain road.

A deputation from Grimsby Beach asked for reduction in water rates but the council turned a deaf ear to the request, as it is not self-supporting.

The recent heavy rains have caused considerable washout at the foot of Baker road and Road Superintendent Ross, Deputy Reeve Stewart and Councilor Critchfield as a committee with power to act will confer with the town.

Road costs from July 15 to August 11 were ordered paid as follows: other accounts amounting to $348.00.

The full width of the bridge and footway in the present three-lane bridge, where necessary, new to be twelve, sound, white, Norway pine sleepers.

Repeal of the construction of Mountain street pavement were in request by Mrs. J. B. Moxley, some measure of relief at her end in the shape of fence or curb, to prevent heavy flow of water, to come onto her lawn and her flower beds as well as wash-mark and gravel off the pavement of the lane.

The offer will be taken up. I. M. Livingston, on behalf of the owners of Maple street, acquainted that some of the information be gained, or action taken, with regard to the repair of road. The clerk was instructed by his motion, to follow up previous letters to the Dominion Power and Transmission Company Limited, Head Office, and insist attention.

SPRAYING AS IMPROVEMENT IN THE CARRYING OF FRUIT

W. A. Ross, of Dominion Entomological Department at Vineland Station, Sends Out Remedies—E. D. Smith & Sons Speak of Benefits To Be Derived By Growers By Following Advice:

The Independent.—The enclosed bulletin is a copy of one that we have received from Mr. Ross of the Vineland Experimental Farm, Vineland Station, re spraying, and as we believe it contains most useful information which is highly desirable to be carried out for the good of the fruit industry, we are taking the liberty of forwarding you a copy.

In the past on different occasions there have been very heavy losses taken by reason of fruit decaying before arrival at destination. This was especially so in our own experience with peaches. If we could feel assured that peaches would arrive safely in the Western market when shipped by freight, it would keep open a fine market, but owing to past experience and heavy losses, one is quite diffident in shipping by freight, or even by express, to far distant points. The fear of destruction, and if curtailing of our market because of this, and the loss of interest on peaches because of rot, all has a direct effect on the price to the grower.

We, therefore, feel that if this spraying could be done by everybody, and make it much easier to ship our peaches to more distant markets, it would have a direct benefit to all fruit growers here. Especially this year, when there is an embargo against American peaches from the United States east of the Mississippi coming into this country, we feel that every effort should be made to land our peaches at their destination in good shape, to satisfy the Canadian public. We do not want the public to say that they could not get satisfactory Canadian peaches.

We, therefore, trust that you will take this into your serious consideration, and if you hesitate have not hesitated in this matter, consider that it is the best thing for your pocket book, and do so.

W. A. Ross, Dominion Entomological Department, Vineland Station, August 1, 1925.

IMPROVING THE CARRYING AND KEEPING QUALITIES OF STONE FRUITS BY SPRAYING.

All fruit growers are aware that spraying protects the foliage and fruit of orchard trees from the ravages of insect and fungus pests, but it may be new to some to learn that late applications of spray material also have a very marked effect in improving the carrying and keeping qualities of peaches, plums and cherries. In a spraying test, conducted by the Entomological Branch in 1923, boxes of unsprayed peaches and sprayed peaches were kept under observation at ordinary house temperatures for some time, and it was noted that at the time practically all the former were in a rotten condition, fully 95 p.c. of the latter were still sound and fresh in appearance.

In connection with cherries, it is interesting to learn that some good housewives like to see spots, stains on the cherries they purchase, because they have learned to associate spray stains with freedom from rot and with good keeping qualities.

In view of the above, we would advise growers who are anxious to have their fruit reach the consumer in first-class condition, to apply the following sprays, primarily with the object of prolonging the life of the fruit in the basket.

PEACHES—Spray with wettable sulphur, 1½ lbs. to 40 gallons of water, about four weeks before picking, or apply two applications of sulphur dust (1) four weeks before picking, and (2) seven to ten days before picking.

CHERRIES AND EUROPEAN PLUMS—In addition to the regular applications mentioned in the Ontario Spray Calendar, spray the trees with lime sulphur 1-30 about one week before picking, or dust with sulphur dust.

JAPANESE PLUMS—Dust with sulphur about one week before picking. (It seems probable that wettable sulphur, 1½ lbs. to 40 gallons of water, could be used two weeks before picking without causing too much staining. Lime sulphur is likely to stain the leaves.)

HAVE YOU SEEN CANADA?

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Canada contains nearly 3,700,000 square miles, of which over 3,600,000 square miles is land. How much of this do you have seen? This question is asked by the natural resources intelligence service of the department of the interior. Canada has all the attractions that any one could wish to see. There are quiet spots where those wanting a real rest may find their heart's desire; there are rivers, lakes and the sea where he who delights to hear the whirr of the reel may secure the finest of game fish; throughout large portions of the country the canoe routes beckon to those who would get away from the conditions of present-day civilization, and camping sites await those who would live in the open. Many thousands of miles of the best of highways offer to the motorist opportunity to tour Canada as never before. Untold millions of money have been poured out that road travel shall be comfortable and pleasurable, and over these good roads each year thousands of visitors view the country and recognize its beauties and appreciate its natural resources. When outsiders can see so many things to interest them in Canada, why should Canadians not pay more attention to their country's charms and see and admire them from the outside to do their motoring and spend their money? See Canada, know your own country and be proud and thankful that you have been blessed with such a wonderful heritage.

LEAVE US ALONE

(St. Catharines Standard.)

Dr. Guy Manning of San Francisco, considered somewhat of an authority on several matters, says people are lazy. He starts in with the housewife and claims that she has so many labor-saving devices that she doesn't know the meaning of hard work.

Turning from her, he goes after the men, declaring that they are downright lazy. They will wait five minutes for an elevator rather than walk up a couple of flights of stairs; they will take a street car rather than walk a few blocks, and so on.

And after all, what business is it of Dr. Guy Manning or any one else if people have these habits? If a woman keeping house finds it easier to have an electric washer in operation than to scrub the knuckles off her hands on a washboard, who is going to say that she's wrong? If some other devices make work easier and enable her to get through an hour or so sooner, who's going to sit in judgment and say it shouldn't be done?

As for a man and an elevator, what's the elevator there for? Has some person to go tagging around after him all day and tell him when to walk and when to ride?

Some persons always seem to be ready to take on the task of scolding the rest of us for what we do or don't do, and the way we do or don't do it. Why can't these critics and regulators leave us alone?

MOVIE PICTURES IN MANY COLORS

Scenes From Some Coming Films Shown—Natural Hues of Costumes and Scenery—Something New.

That there are some great pictures ahead for patrons of Moore's theatre was proven last night when Jack Nelson, Toronto distributor of Metro Goldwyn-Mayer pictures got on about ten reels of scenes from a few of the M-G-M. latest films.

Some of the scenes shown were from "The Mystic," "The Circle," "Relax of Pushkin," "Pretty Ladies," "Merry Widow," "Tune the Comedian" and "Patsy." In the latter picture our own Wilfrid "Lama" appears, which will make the picture of added interest to Grimsby people.

One of the almost amazing features of these films is the color effect. No dull drab grey, but a kaleidoscope of color rich, pleasing and true to the scene itself. The coloring of these pictures is in itself well worth seeing even by those who do not make a practice of attending moving picture shows.

The first reels shown were of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios at Culver City, California, showing the forty-five immense buildings, with fourteen stages which cover forty-three acres of ground.

WRITE TO YOUR FRIENDS IN U. S.

Motor League Plans To Bring More Tourists To Ontario From Over the Border

The Ontario Motor League is appealing to all motorists in the province to write to their friends and relatives in the United States telling them that Ontario now has a Highway System comparable with the best in the U. S. A.; and scenic climate, fishing, hunting and other vacation charms for motor tourists without parallel on the American continent.

"Where is a like space and within such a short distance of the majority of the motorists of the United States are packed so many and so stirring playgrounds and so many scenic attractions, haunts of fish and game and points of historic and other interest accessible to motorists over good roads?" asks an official of the Touring Department of the O.M.L.

"To get a good view of Niagara Falls either in its natural might and majesty by day or in its fantastic, spectacular garb by night, provided by the battery of electric searchlights totalling a million, three hundred candle power, the twin Cataracts must be viewed from the Canadian side, that is, from Ontario." "Here," he said, picking up a letter from his desk, "is a letter from a Philadelphia motorist for whom we prepared a route," he says, after expressing appreciation for the Motor League's services to him, "Ontario is an ideal land to tour in. I'm coming back, I hope, not once, but many times. We have no drive on this side of the Line comparable with that from Toronto to the Falls and Port Erie."

"If every Ontario motorist would write to friends and relatives in the United States about Muskoka, the Thirty Thousand Lakes, the Thousand Islands, the Niagara Peninsula and the beauty of Old Ontario, it would do more to augment the annual incursion of motor tourists than a myriad copies of maps, booklets and vouchers."

"Motor tourist traffic," he said, "has been ranked above our great industrial output as a source of revenue from natural resources."

MAINLY FOR WOMEN

Will Celebrate 70th Anniversary

Stirling, Ont., Aug. 10.—If Joshua Anderson and his wife, who reside on Anderson Island, a small tract of land cut off from the mainland by the Trent River and one of its branches, live until October 29 next they will celebrate the 70th anniversary of their marriage. The husband is 69 and Mrs. Anderson is 68 years of age. Mr. Anderson was born in Northumberland County, not more than a mile from his present home, on January 21, 1855.

When Mr. Anderson was 11 years old his parents moved to Anderson Island, which was named for the family, taking possession of the farm on which the son and his wife still live. That was in 1857, the year of the breaking out of the Mackenzie Rebellion.

One of the older boys in the family belonged to the militia, and his company was called the Belleville, Joshua and another brother visited the soldier at the barracks in Belleville, walking the distance, 22 miles, through the woods, over a rough trail. They slept one night in the barracks with the soldiers, all of whom were anxious to get to the fighting line, but the trouble was settled without their aid, the Belleville (Ont.) Examiner comments.

Mrs. Anderson, whose maiden name was Mary Parsons, was born near the home of her future husband on April 2, 1856, on Easter Sunday. The couple were married on October 23, 1856, by Rev. William Mack, pastor in charge of what was then a mission station of the Methodist denomination at Stirling.

The young couple took up the hard life of the pioneers. They had to literally hoe their home out of the wilderness, but they overcame all difficulties and obstacles and are now spending their declining years in peace and comfort. They raised a family of 10 children, seven of whom are still living.

Into a life so long, no matter how secluded, tragedy was sure to come. The first real sorrow that cast its shadow over the home was the drowning of two of the children. Angelina and Richard, aged 16 and 11 years, who broke through the ice on the river on their way from school. The aged eyes of the mother fill with tears as she tells of the recovery of the bodies, clasping each other's hands. Another son, Wilson, was killed by a horse some years ago.

Even in those early days there was a stage running from Stirling to Belleville but Mr. Anderson never used this method of transportation when he had business in the lakeside town, but walked there and back. Once he was summoned for jury duty in Belleville and he made his way on foot, reaching his destination ahead of the stage. A case on which he was called was finished at 10 o'clock at night and he made his way home on foot, arriving as day was breaking, and taking up his duties as he would had he been resting all night.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are remarkably bright and vigorous for their years. Their sight is good and all their faculties as keen as ever, save for a slight deafness on the part of the husband. They are free from the pains and aches which usually afflict the aged. The husband has always used tobacco in moderation, but never drank any liquor to speak of, and only once—about 10 years ago—has he required medical attention. An ambition for public office never beset him. In politics he was always a Conservative. He was raised an Anglican, but now all his life attended the Methodist church.

In the case of both Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, longevity appears to be a matter of heredity. The former's mother died at the age of 85, and in the Stirling cemetery there is a monument recording the age of anyone older. Mrs. Anderson's grandfather, the late John Parsons, attained the age of 100 years and 11 months. She tells, with evident family pride, that her grandfather a short time before his death walked from what is now the town of Trenton to Toronto, 100 miles, making the return trip in less than a week. Mr. Parsons fought in various engagements in the War of 1812.

The living children of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are Mrs. Chester Heard, their youngest daughter, who resides on the next farm to her parents; Mrs. William Rhinow, of Wallaceton; and Mrs. William Rhinow, of Wallaceton. The sons are Walter, of Hearst's Station; George, of Southey; Fred, who resides at home, and Frank, of Quebec. They have so many grand, great and great-grand children that they have long since lost count of the number. When strange young people call on them now and introduce themselves as descendants, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson accept the situation as a matter of course.

Care of White Shoes
White buck and canvas shoes may be kept clean very easily, unless very badly soiled, by rubbing them with one of the powder bags sold for the purpose at any shoe store. When badly soiled first clean them thoroughly with lye soap, then if they need further whitening rub them with the powder bag. White kid or calf shoes are the most difficult to keep clean. A shoe cream should be used applying it very gently. On this kind of shoe a polish or cleaner should never be rubbed in.

Bath Suit Shrink?
A woolen bathing suit or other woolen garment which has shrunk, may often be improved by being washed in soap suds and rinsed in clean soap suds instead of clear water. Repeated washings in this may be required to restore the garment to its original size and fluffiness, and in drying it should be well pinned out and stretched. It is said that soaking in gasoline will also assist in restoring shrunken articles.

After the bread is baked, rub butter over the top of each loaf and you will have a soft, rich crust.

POISON IV

Year after year the poison ivy comes out in the spring and summer months. It is a very common plant, and is found in many places. It is a very poisonous plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of.

Failing to recognize the poison ivy, many people are liable to poisoning, find themselves in a very uncomfortable position. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of.

It is surprising how many people are made to clean up by the poison ivy. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of. It is a very common plant, and it is very difficult to get rid of.

Advice To Bathers

Only stay in the water for a few minutes the first few times. Never bathe if tired or very hot. Wait until rested and cooler. On no account go into the water after a substantial meal.

Do not venture on a deep dive as expert swimmer, and beware of sudden dips in the shore.

The bather should dry as soon as possible. If the feet are cold, rub them with a towel. If the feet are cold, rub them with a towel. If the feet are cold, rub them with a towel.

Sea water has a bad effect on the hair, making it hard and dry. So, well-oiled, waterproof cap should be worn.

Cooking Fish Satisfactorily

An ordinarily used, the term "fish" includes, besides the fish proper, many other aquatic animals such as lobsters, scallops, turtle, etc., but in the trout season the term "fish"—to the fisherman at least—means trout and nothing else.

If your kitchen is an enthusiast over his sport, you realize that he rarely grates the way trout is cooked. To him the fish is good because it is freshly caught and he looks upon it as his own particular achievement. Nevertheless, the method of cooking may make or spoil the freshest or rarest fish. Because a woman is a good cook it does not follow that she is equally expert at cooking fish. The tendency is to over-cook fish and many recipes give a time that is too long for best results. Cook fish until the meat separates from the bones and the fish looks plump—not shriveled.

Large trout are delicious baked. Clean, wash and wipe dry, then fill with a bread stuffing. Place the fish on a greased pan, sprinkle it with salt and pepper, brush over with melted butter and dredge with flour. Bake in a hot oven, basting often with melted butter or bacon fat.

Another Good One
Small trout are delicious dipped in salted milk (1 tablespoon of salt to 1 cup of milk) then in fine crumbs then place in a pan with a little melted butter or oil added to each fish. Cook in a very hot oven. When the fish is removed from the oven, each piece will be beautifully browned on all sides, and will be in perfect shape.

Roasted cornish crabs are good to use instead of fish. Bread crumbs because they are easy to prepare and are naturally a golden brown. With this way of cooking fish, called the "Spencer Method"—care should be taken to completely cover the fish with the crumbs, use a hot oven and no water to the pan. You will enjoy the result more than by frying the fish, and there will be no odor of cooking in your house.

If your fisherman has been unusually successful in the number of small trout which he has caught, they may be served cold. Prepare a fish stock and in it cook the trout for a short time—until the meat begins to leave the bones. Cook together one cup of vinegar several whole cloves, a small stick of cinnamon, and a cup of bay leaves. Add one-fourth cup of oil. When the fish are cold, arrange them on a platter and pour the oil and vinegar over them. Garnish with slices of onion and lemon, and sprinkle with paprika.

"Five Sisters" Window

Canadian women share with their sisters throughout the world in the credit of the pleasure of being responsible for the restoration of the fine "Five Sisters" window in the north transept of York Minster. The work has been carried out in memory of the 1,466 women of the Empire who died for their country in the war. In the St. Nicholas Chapel in an oak screen, erected with the surplus of the funds raised for the restoration of the window, bearing the names of the women whose sacrifice the window so fittingly commemorates.

Those who have seen the window—in which 13th century lead from the old Abbey of Norwalk holds 19th century glass—describe it as indeed "a thing of beauty." In his fine address after the unveiling by the Duchess of York, the other day, the Archbishop of York told most movingly how the inspiration that came to a woman of York with a flash of insight, proved to be a signal which was immediately answered from every part of the Empire, and within nine weeks over 31,000 "sisters"—women of every class and nation—within the Empire—joined not only the window, but more than the apex of the sun moved to restore the window. As he finely said: "The emotion which unites us here is no mere beating of the Empire's heart."—From "Queen."

It Was Alive!

She was giving an order to the grocer.
"And I require some cheese," she said.
"Yes, Miss," replied the grocer, smiling amiably; "I have some lovely cheese."
"You should not say 'lovely cheese'!" said the customer severely.
"But why not, miss? It is lovely cheese!"
"Because"—she tried to combine maidenly modesty with an air of learning—"because lovely should only be used to qualify something that is alive!"
The grocer's smile broadened as he glanced at the Gorgonzola.
"Well, miss," he said. "It's stick to 'lovely'!"

MOSQUITOES

(Issued by the Director of Public Health, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.)

Certain protective mixtures applied to the skin are of great value in warding off mosquitoes, black-flies and similar pests, especially when the insects are very numerous. A number of formulas for such mixtures are given in a pamphlet on the methods of protection against mosquitoes and black-flies, just issued by the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. A mixture recommended by the author is composed of 3 ounces of oil of citronella, 1 of spirits of camphor, 1 of oil of tar, 1/2 an ounce of oil of pennyroyal and from 4 to 6 ounces of castor oil. Another mixture consists of 1 ounce of oil of citronella, 1/2 an ounce of pennyroyal and 3 ounces of castor oil. The castor oil is included to prevent injury to the skin. Tallow may be used instead if it is desired to have mixture in the form of a paste.

When the insects are abundant it is necessary to apply the mixture at least once every half hour, using liberal quantities and rubbing it thoroughly over the hands and face. Care should be taken to have a sufficient quantity of a mixture when on an extended trip in the woods. At least an ounce per person per day is necessary if the flies are anyway abundant. The mixture should be carried in a small aluminum flask or screw top tin, but not in a glass bottle as it is apt to break.

They give and ask no quarter. For swat them on you may. Though you slay them by the hundreds there are thousands back next day. There is no sovereign balm Against this foe insidious. Who lurks in swampy grass by day And makes the nighttime hideous. With muggy creams and lotions Your person you embellish. Stern smudges and spray potions—No! I go them up with relish. Mosquito netting merely adds A fillet to his taste for blood; I wonder why old Noah Saved this species from the Flood.

Women Short On Brains

"You women have not yet begun to exist. You have no brain power, no pulse, no balance, no morality—nothing. You are sleek jungle cats. You ought to be behind bars."

This criticism of women was dropped by the Hon. Mr. Frankland, the speaker of a debate organized by the Toronto Club at Central Hall Westminster, London, Eng. His audience was composed chiefly of women.

"We live in a curious, vulgar world," he said, "which is principally ruled by women who have no morality."

"The first principle of morality is to like your work. Will the women who like washing—p kindly stand up? Not one of you! Dusting? Sweeping? Doing household accounts? Ah, two women have stood up! You have all proved that you loathe and detest your job—housekeeping!"

"You are rotten mothers, most of you who are mothers, but, of course, you are charming. So are other things which have no morality; leopards, for instance. You purr when you obtain your own way. You hiss when you do not."

"Agnes, in 'David Copperfield,' is the sweetest character ever drawn by any novelist. She never used her nail scissors on her hair. She was sweet, modestly, retiring, loving to the end. Not even she had any morality. She was, at any rate, neither overeducated nor undereducated, like most modern girls."

WHAT DO LOCAL WOMEN THINK

"If the women of the church wish to continue to raise money through the sale of home cooking and bannocks and by other methods that are competing with legitimate merchandising, let the church take out a license to do business and also let it pay all the other taxes with which the legitimate merchant is faced." was the declaration of Mrs. James Henderson, of Toronto, when she addressed the first session of the reorganized Women's Missionary Society of the Continuing Presbyterian Church.

SLAT'S DIARY

By JESS FARRAR

Friday—I guess Misters think he is the only show now because he has got a new show. Ma and I are all foolishness to get such things and I can't by some well-known person. I don't see no use in them neither because as I told Misters I have got one of these to come inside the house when it begins to rain.

Sat.—John Olney is all worked up about starting up a Stock Co. to manufacture some thing. He says he has invented a tremendous lip stick so it can be seen in the dark as well as in the light. Ant Emmy says the young folks are getting milder help less in this day of ages. If they need any thing like that.

Sunday—Mrs. Gilman sat Ant Emmy if she cared for Pimento. Ant Emmy set she never heard him sing but once and that was on a phonograph record down to Uncle Henry house.

Monday—Misters pa told us today that next month he and a bunch of other men was going up in Alaska and hunt bear. Ant Emmy said she thought they were off to do that because it is so cold up there that they better take a fur coat along or at least a sweater and some underwear.

Tuesday—Jake was telling us today about a little of hand man he seen yesterday at the yawdville show. He said make 20¢ Bill disappear as quick as a wink. Pa said, Sheet that ain't nothing. I can see that without leaving the house. I just sat here and watch my wife cirk on my salary. Ma never or a word as it happened she was down town trying a new outfit for as trip we are going to take in the fall.

Wednesday—Grove applied. Nothing to write about much.

Thursday—Ma's sister which was visiting here went home today in a hurry on acct. of innocent remark pa made to her. She said we did not have no conversation here. Pa reminded of us had several times out of town in both directions every day. She took a train and left.

When furniture becomes dented and not broken the marks may easily be made to disappear. Treat it in this manner: Wet the bruised spot with water. Double a piece of brown paper five or six times and soak it in warm water. Place it upon the bruise and apply a warm (not hot) flat iron till the moisture has evaporated. If the dent has not disappeared repeat the treatment.

OPTOMETRY

It's value to the public.
By VERNON TUCK, R.O.
Grimsby, Ontario

Far-sight results because nature in building the eyes made them shorter than they should be. Some people overcome considerable far-sight with less annoyance than a smaller degree imposes upon others. Every far-sighted person would be better in every way if the error were corrected.

Far-sight, like every other error of vision, varies in intensity. Some are deficient to only a slight degree, others to an excessive extent. A suspicion of far-sight should prompt a person to consult the Optometrist.

WHAT WILL HELP BUSINESS HERE?

Last week we took up the merchants' point of view—this week we will discuss the buyers' side of the argument.

We can perhaps do no better than quote as nearly as we can the argument of a lady when engaged in a controversy with a well known local merchant on the subject. The lady's side in brief was "My husband has a fixed salary—we have to save all we can—we drive to Hamilton almost every week anyway and I figure and save enough on my purchases to pay the yearly premium on my husband's insurance. There's no sentiment in business these days and buying is business. Besides I can secure a great deal bigger range of merchandise to choose from in all lines." And the lady is absolutely right.

The merchant countered with—"What do you do when company lands in on you unexpectedly and you need some extra food—run up town and pay cash for it or have it delivered?"

Do the merchants, whom you purchase from in Hamilton, donate the prizes for your Sunday school sports; do they buy tickets for and attend your entertainments, dances etc.

If your house caught fire to-morrow would the Hamilton Fire Department put out the blaze or would it be the G. F. D. which is backed by the local merchants?

How long would you continue to live here if everyone adopted your attitude—which would result in practically all local stores having to close up? In that event how much less would your house be worth than it is now?

And how about your husband's salary—would he still have a job if everyone did what you do? The lady admitted that she hadn't looked at the matter that way and that there might be something in that line of reasoning.

From a Grimsby point of view—with the best interests of Grimsby at stake—the merchant was absolutely right. Grimsby cannot prosper and Grimsby merchants cannot stand the strain unless the buying public thinks, looks at things and looks of loyalty cause people to buy out of Grimsby.

Look for next week's article—"What's Wrong With Grimsby from a Sporting Angle."

WHY I DO NOT BUY IN GRIMSBY!

BECAUSE I cannot afford to. My income will not allow me to.
BECAUSE I paid a merchant in Grimsby $21.00 for a coat and I saw the same coat, by the same maker, in Hamilton for $11.00. I paid him $2.50 for stockings and when examining them at home found that one was size 8 and the other a 10, and both were moth eaten.

BECAUSE I went to a store to buy a bottle of polish, but on entering the store, a clerk told me they had nothing to fit me, before I took him what I wanted.

BECAUSE I bought a bottle of olives from a greizer, and he asked him to open it for me. He informed me that it had to be opened for customers he would never get anything else done.

BECAUSE I went to a house and asked for a glass of lemonade, and in answer they told me they never kept lemonade. They also had no enterprise!

BECAUSE I paid $1.25 for a shade for an electric light, and bought a duplicate shade in Hamilton for 45c. I paid $4.75 for a fixture in Grimsby, and saw the same thing in Hamilton for $1.75.

BECAUSE I bought a lunch in Grimsby and paid $1.25 for it, but left it on the table from which the soup, gravy and crumbs from the former customer's lunch had not been cleared away, and because the plate had a decoration of dirty thumb marks round the edge. Also because there were three flies and a cockroach in the pie.

People who COULD spend their money in Grimsby are also entitled to a little loyalty.

Why should the BUYER hand the merchant from 15 to 50 per cent more for an article than he can purchase the same article for elsewhere?

A. REASON.

(The above letter is published, although against our stated policy of giving prominence to anonymous contributions,—the writer of it apparently not having the courage of his convictions to put his name to it,—and we wish to stimulate interest in our series of articles on "What is Wrong With Grimsby," and to receive arguments pro and con from our readers—but letters on the subject, as on any other subject, must be signed by the writer (not necessarily for publication); and if such come to our desk without the writer's signature, no matter how trenchant the article is, they will be consigned to the w.p.b.)

COULD THIS HAVE BEEN GRIMSBY?

At a recent meeting of a municipal council, the chairman announced that the clerk wanted a supply of ribbons for his typewriter.

Immediately a member rose to protest against such extravagance. "Who may be a very nice girl, but I do not see why she should be provided with ribbons at the expense of the ratepayers."

SPRAY NOW FOR CODLING MOTH

WE WANT YOU TO HAVE THIS INFORMATION

Apples
The recent brood of codling moth (Bite worm) is now emerging and laying eggs. With warm weather these eggs will soon hatch. The second brood will be strong over the next two weeks.

Apple can be also appearing on the fruit in some orchards where there was early infection on the foliage.

This is a critical time for your crop. Our entomologists have just completed a tour of Ontario orchards. Their advice is that side worms will be very bad and that it is vitally important to take immediate measures against them. The eggs are now on the apples and hatching.

The apple crop is good, the quality fine to fine—but you must dust or spray at once to forestall serious damage.

WHEN AND WHAT TO APPLY—
Dust with D-1 or D-2; or spray with Lime Sulphur 1 gallon and Arsenate of Lead 2 pounds to 40 gallons water. Do it at once and thoroughly.

Peaches and Plums
Dust at once with D-1 and again ten days before picking. This will prevent shot holes and brown rot and make your fruit keep and ship better.

This letter is not an advertisement but is part of Niagara Research and Advisory Service. We want you to finish this year free of worms and such. Prices will be good. Wormy and crabby apples are a dead loss. If you have them after this date it will be because you have not followed this advice.

C. N. E. RACES

The Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, is advertising a program of races during four days, Sept. 8, 9, 10 and 11, commencing with events for trotters and pacers. Of the numerous race meets held in Canada each year, none equal the popularity enjoyed by the fair. Its success is anticipated by an increasing multitude that attend the horse races as the crown jewel of the world's greatest exhibition, and this year the committee in charge of this sport have endeavored to arrange a program that will appeal to both owners and spectators. The schedule announces Saturday, September 8 as the first day of harness racing, with three days of the final week of the Exhibition, September 9, 10, 11, during which events for three-year-olds and under colts will be offered to the horse owners.

The inclusion of two races for horses of immature age is deserving of special attention from breeders and owners, one for three-year-olds and under pacers and the other for three-year-olds and under trotters, each with an attached purse of $500 and Silver Cups donated to the respective winners. The trotters will race for a trophy donated by the Toronto Driving Club while the pacers will battle for a handsome Silver Cup the gift of the noted Parkhill breeder, Mr. Chas. Barrett, whose much-lamented stallion, Gratian Royal, has established remarkable fame for Canadian bred older horses. For the future activity of breeding and the subsequent encouragement of colt racing in this country, horsemen are requested to continue the training of their colts and support these two races by furnishing the required number of entrants, a by four in number with three to start, as specified in the conditions of the advertisement.

The 2:10 race is a feature race always highly anticipated by the patrons of the fair and while this event has always attracted a light entry it invariably has furnished a stout battle. Owners of eligibles to this class might note that during past seasons the time established in this event has not affected the eligibility of the winner.

A resume of the program indicates a class for the majority of horses racing in Canada this season and consists of the following classes: for trotters, 2:30 for three-year-olds and under, 2:30 (open), 2:34, and 2:17; for pacers, 2:30 for three-year-olds and under, 2:30 (open), 2:30, 2:16 and 2:18 eligibles. Horsemen are reminded that the entries to these races close with secretary, N. V. Hansplant, Lumsden Bldg., Toronto, on Saturday, August 22. Horses are eligible to the aged classes on August 30, while the three-year-olds and under are eligible on July 1. Records made on either date no bar. The purses are of an uniform value of $500, with a five per cent entrance and no deductions from money winners.

Keep the closing dates in mind and contribute your entries to the most generous race meet of the season. The Exhibition track is the best half mile oval in Canada and the horsemen will find every convenience including stabling sufficiently warm for winter use.

To Save Soap

Put all the little pieces of soap aside and when you have an accumulation boil them up and bottle them as a liquid soap. You may add borax to this if you wish to increase its strength. Such soap is good for washing but things you wash by hand which require more delicate soap, or for a shampoo or to be used in any other soap.

Another way to use the small pieces is to tie them in a small piece of cloth and use them as a cake of soap or as you use the soap shaver in dishwashing; or they may be shaved up fine and used as soap flakes.

"The Bread Basket of the Country"

The history of the agricultural adversity in the north-western regions of the United States is full of significance for the farmer of western Canada is shown in an article by Marquis James in a recent edition of the "New York Times." In 1917, 1918 and 1919, writes Mr. James, there were in the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota, three complete crop failures in succession which had a deplorable economic effect and produced something like a panic in the three states primarily concerned. But, continues the writer, this misfortune had been desirable result in that it pointed out to the farmers themselves and to the country at large the value of improved farming, as compared to the old crop methods which had obtained up to that time. The depression demonstrated the necessity for a change in farming methods and in adopting a policy of more extensive and intensive general or diversified farming. Mr. James believes that the North-western States solved their problem. For a time, says Mr. James, the large successive failures, the wheat growers enjoyed a period of uninterrupted prosperity. They were wheat-growers, but not all of them were farmers. In an official survey by callings of the inhabitants of the bread country, one finds a doctor, a school-teacher, a Y.M.C.A. secretary, a dentist, a motorman and a water dispenser—not pursuing the farmer to put in another regular rotation, but farmers in the hope that the preceding, or perhaps, it is better to say, the current season. The crop of 1920 also was good, because from 1912 to 1916 there was a phenomenal rain and one bank in every three in Montana in that western section and the wheat failed.

The same situation existed in modified form over the Dakotas and Minnesota, but the older localities had reserves to fall back on. It is easy to be wise after the event and the moral to the above is that there has been a turnover not only in farming methods but in farmers. The 100-day wheat farmer—the dentist and soda clerk—have largely given place to agriculturists of the 100-day a year variety. Wheat is still the main money crop, but it is grown scientifically. Land is summer-fallowed and worked before and after planting. Wheat acreages are everywhere diminishing and crops are rotated and diversified. Rye, millet, alfalfa and flax have been introduced; dairy and beef herds established; poultry, bees and vegetable gardens cultivated. Thus, when wheat fails, as it sometimes must, there is something else to fall back upon. This lesson has not been lost in Canada. Farmers of the Canadian West who are succeeding are in most cases doing so because they have learned the sound economic value of diversified farming as compared to the one-crop method.

Up—Strophomena's first engine in the Station at Darlington, N.Y. (left)—The interior of the observation car on the Canadian Pacific Trans-Canada. Below—The Trans-Canada leaving Montreal.

The 100-ton Strophomena and Darlington Railway, in England, is a matter of history now. Its board of directors is no more; its revenues have passed to its rolling stock, or what survives of it, rests in museums—having seen its day and been its part in the march of progress.

At this time—a century after the time when the Stockton and Darlington Railway was regarded as a marvellous engineering achievement and threatened the supremacy of the stage coach as a means of long-distance transportation—the great engines have been taken down from their pedestals, the wheels oiled, the rust removed and once again high hatted gentlemen and bonneted ladies have been bumped along from Stockton to Darlington behind the first real locomotive.

Thus the people of Great Britain celebrated its centenary. The occasion of a famous rolling stock and railway is that is a most fitting illustration of the evolution of railway transportation and gave to the rising generation an insight into the agencies our grandparents had to endure if they wished to go from one place to another by train. The Duke and Duchess of York attended the celebrations and, watching the parades, became thoroughly infected with the spirit of the occasion. All those who took part in the processions, and some of those who didn't, dressed in the costumes of the period, giving to the celebrations an atmosphere of togetherness in keeping with the nature of the celebration.

By way of showing the wonderful development that has taken place in railroading since the first engine painfully puffed its way from Darlington to Stockton there is shown above one of the engines used in the centenary celebrations pulling a replica of the original train contrasted with the ultra-modern Trans-Canada, the all-steel Canadian Pacific Train, which nowadays conveys its passengers from one part of the Dominion to another, three thousand miles away, at a speed considered unattainable by our forefathers, and in greater comfort and security than many of them enjoyed at home.

The Right Way to Boil Potatoes

Put the potatoes in an SMP Enamelled Potato Pot. Cover with water. Add salt to taste. Boil until soft. When finished, drain off all the boiling water through the strainer spout. No danger of steam scalding the hands because the handle securely locks the cover on. If your family uses potatoes, you require one of these.

AN OLD STORY, BUT EVER NEW

It is scarcely necessary any longer to spend time proving that advertising by creating demand, speeding up production, and increasing production, cuts down the cost to the consumer. But occasionally the logic of the thing is not such with such respect I clear up the story worth quoting. Life had such an article the other day. Here it is:

"I don't want any soap factory making one can of soap for me. I don't want my soap either made or at all."

"When it comes to soap and soap, don't want to be exclusive. I want to be one of 1,000,000 customers."

"So, if you are a manufacturer, don't come around to me with a tape measure and say that you would like to make me for soap or soap. First get 1,000,000 other guys like me, and then I'll listen."

"My reason for being so incoherently is this: I figure that if you get 1,000,000 other customers, your soap is bound to be good. You can afford to take pains with it. You can hire a lot of experts to experiment their heads off. You can put in the best soap or soap machinery in the world. Your soap will be some soap. Your soap will wash dirt."

"If I place my order with you personally for one can of soap or one can of soap you might fuss around with it and it might be good, or it might not. And if I didn't like it and kicked, you should worry."

"But with 1,000,000 other birds to please, you will please or perish. I should worry."

"The only way I know for you to get 1,000,000 other buyers is for you to advertise."

Landlady—Help! What'll I do? A rat's run into the pantry.
Long-suffering landlord—Oh, just shut the door and let it starve.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Does our worthy and honorable council, of the hardship and stress they have brought on the taxpayers, who are striving hard to a home, and I believe always their taxes when due, and unemployment faced them. A many taxpayers had to apply to the last winter through no fault of their own, and our council knows well the names, yet to satisfy ends they put us to more hard by having the bailiff to collect a cash month, when we got ready for the summer, but would see homes broken up for the 1924. Everyone is willing to pay when have means.

Would our council like to see the poor pittance (called wages) which is a disgrace to the employer of labor and keep a wife and 3 or 4 children out of school? They figure they might get into some predicament themselves? Cause ill luck follows a worker with sickness and unemployment, put us to more distress paying bailiff's fee.

In conclusion I would ask if the gentlemen that pressed to have taxes collected by bailiff did not advertise their business ability or have their names blazoned over town for other reasons.

Might I ask if all of our council eligible to sit, and if they cannot be nominated for next year? I do not.

FAMILY REUNION OF HENDERSHOT

The ancestry of three families, particular, by name, Johnsons, Hendershots, have in their spring a multitude of Hendershots scattered very broadly over the American continent; Senator Hendershot of Washington, D. C., being one, to be present on his occasion.

The old Hendershots were located near the Niagara District between the 11th and 14th Buffalo where a great many still live and have splendid homes.

It is the intention to hold a gathering at the Niagara Falls Victoria Park Pavilion on Labor Day. It is expected that this picnic and union will bring together upwards of 500 by many names and yet all direct descendants of the Hendershot family.

The event will be one of note as it now forty-five years since the family last met, many of whom attended the gathering are expected to attend this one, although on long a time later.

Otherwise the tax assessment will remain about the same as 1924, except for the various school sections which has not as yet been fixed. The township by-law provides for the collection of this year's taxes the various other rates as follows: County purposes, 17.5; township purposes, 0.2; debtors, 0.5; and municipal grant to schools, 2.5.

D'Anna was thrown with sufficient force to tear the front door of the car from its hinges and landed several feet away. Two bad scalp wounds and injuries to his hip and knee were attended to by Dr. McLaughlin at the Village Inn, but he insisted on going to his home later in the day.

But we don't ask you to take word for it; go to Farrell's Drug Store or any good druggist and get a bottle of Rheuma today! If it doesn't do as we promise get your money back. It will be there waiting for you tomorrow.

WILL ATTEND AT GRIMSBY SCHOOL

Saltfleet Council Has Arranged For Students of That Township To Come To Local H. S.

Stoney Creek, Aug. 11.—Teachers of the county council's attitude in the matter of providing high school accommodation this year, the residents of Saltfleet will be provided for, according to Reeves Carruthers states that the township council had arranged for Saltfleet children to attend the Grimsby High school after September 1, and that the Grimsby board of education had accepted the county council. This means that pupils from Saltfleet will have their entire term paid at Grimsby instead of Hamilton, which which the county council has failed to reach an agreement. It will not be, however, however, for the children of this township to attend Grimsby.

I am twenty-five cents. I am not an speaking horse with the bathtub. I am too small to buy a quart of ice cream. I am not large enough to purchase a box of candy. I am too small to buy a ticket to a movie. I am hardly fit for a tip, but—believe me, when I go to church on Sunday I am considered some money.
